PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Bill Schardein

Well, here we are in another new year and with that, Region 10 has me as the new President. Hopefully, I will serve you well in the next two years. As you may be aware, we have just successfully completed the 30th Annual Mid-Winter Symposium. For everyone who attended, I think you would hear that they thoroughly enjoyed the presentations that splendid speakers gave. I will have to thank Will Coltharp and Jack Alexander for all their work in putting together such a fine agenda for us to enjoy. Great job guys! We were down in attendance a bit, but with the help of the auction plants collected by Doris Stonska, we were able to come out in the black again at the end of the symposium. This would not have happened without the generosity of several speakers who did not ask for gas expenses. An especially big THANK YOU goes to Kathleen Nordstrom and Mike Grossman who donated their air fare expenses. These gestures went the extra step to help the region be able to pay all the MWS expenses. So please make sure you remember to check out the websites of Kathleen Nordstrom, Mike Grossman, David Kirchoff for daylilies and Jeff Harvey for conifers to thank them for their contributions to our region. Now, we can move on to the next big event for us, the Region 10 Summer Meeting in Louisville, KY on June 26 and 27, 2020 hosted by the Louisville Area Daylily Society. You will start on Friday afternoon with the Garden Judges Workshops and the Exhibition Judges Clinics at our house, Creekside Gardens. If not attending any classes you are welcome to wander in our gardens until the Registration begins at 4 PM. Then starting at 6 PM, the Dessert and Fruit Bar Reception and Welcome to the Region 10 Summer Meeting will finish off the day. On Saturday you will have from 8 AM to 4 PM to tour all the gardens (you will receive the addresses and all information at registration). There will even be some gardens that will be selling garden items since we will not have a traditional Boutique. You will tour the Cedar Creek Gardens of Michael Stephens, John Morgan's Garden, Luck-y-Ray Daylily Gardens of Linda Luck and Ray Clark, The Gardens of Sally and Tom Fensterer, and Wolff's Daylilies of Don and Claudia Wolff. Finally, your last stop will be Breshears Creek Gardens of Karen and Danny Sidebottom from 4 to 6 PM, with all evening activities held there. At 6 PM you will enjoy the Bar-B-Q Banquet followed by Region 10 Business Meeting and Daylily Auction. Remember you will be receiving a named cultivar at registration (and another surprise for you along with that cultivar – did that get you curious??) all for a $40 registration fee. What a great deal!! You are sure to have a great experience. You can get all the information for registration on LADS.plantfans.com. Hope to see you there!

Welcome to the Spring/Summer issue of The Daylily Appeal! This issue contains many pictures of the 30th Annual MWS held again in Bowling Green, KY which continues to be an excellent venue for our gathering. Plans have already been made to hold the event at the same site next year, February 5,6,7,2021. Don't forget to look at the Popularity Poll in this issue and submit your ballot before the deadline by September 1, 2020. I have also included in this issue more information about the upcoming summer meeting in Louisville, KY. This year's meeting promises to be something exciting and different – more gardens with visitation at your own pace! I would also like to remind everyone that submission of articles and pictures are always welcome for consideration for publication in The Daylily Appeal. As always, the deadline for the upcoming Fall/Winter issue is Sept 1. Here's looking forward to seeing everyone at the summer meeting in Louisville and the national meeting in Savannah, GA!

AHS REGION 10 PUBLICITY DIRECTOR

Tucker Gaby

Hello, Region 10 daylily lovers. My name is Tucker Gaby. I am from Harrison, TN, and I am 16 years old. I am the new Region 10 Publicity Director. Libby Hickman has stepped down, and I was asked by Bill Schardein to fill the position. I am looking forward to sharing my daylily experiences for as long as the Lord allows me. First, I'll share how I started with daylilies. When I was nine years old, I went to my grandparents' house for July 4th. After lunch, we went to the daylily farm in Delano, TN, owned by Steve and Karen Newman. That day at their garden piqued interest and passion that has grown and evolved. The Newmans have been great mentors for me through my journey in daylilies. On this first visit to their garden, I purchased about $400 worth of daylilies. I had about $500 more of daylilies on my wish list, but my parents stopped me from spending more money. On our way home, we discussed our plans to earn extra money. I set my mind as a nine-year-old boy to have a plant sale at our home with the daylilies from our garden. At the time, we had about ten different cultivars. I invited all of my friends and family members from our church, school, and extracurricular activities. After I sold daylilies for a week, I earned the $500 that I needed to purchase the daylilies on my wish list. Since then, I have been selling daylilies and adding cultivars to our family garden. In the summer of 2018, Tennessee Valley Daylily Society hosted Scenic City Blooms for Region 10's meeting. My family's garden was one of the host gardens, and I met many of the Region 10 members. It was so memorable for many people to visit our garden. The kind words from our guests at the garden tour were an excellent reward for my family and me after all the work that we put in the weeks prior. Now for a friendly reminder: Please vote in the Popularity Poll during the 2020 blooming season. Last year our participation was meager, and I would like to do my part to increase the engagement in this vote. I'm hoping everyone will vote for your favorite daylilies because I know I enjoy doing this myself. This year's Popularity Poll ballot is in this edition. Please take notice of the cultivars listed in the poll and submit your selections by September 1st. My club, Tennessee Valley Daylily Society, for the first time will be including the Hall of Fame inductees from years past at our daylily show in the Popularity Poll section. I highly encourage all clubs hosting a daylily show to include these daylilies in your section 10 division.

Daylily Photos – On the Trail of History

With over 36,000 photos missing from the Online Daylily Database, it might seem to be a never-ending task to find them all. Over the years, it has been a long and involved process to find, link and upload photos to the Online Database. For over a year, we have been working on a new tool to streamline the process and make uploading photos more efficient. Rebecca Board, past director for Region 15 and also past chair of the Registration committee, has volunteered her time to develop this tool. I have been testing it with her for the past 6 months and it is working beautifully. Instead of the time-consuming process of at least 5 minutes per photo upload, I can now view a photo, compare it to the description, check that permission to use the photo was obtained, and approve the photo to the Online Daylily Database in just a minute or two. Running the numbers, in the past month I have been able to approve and upload over 500 photos! The Image Collection sub-committee consists of Michael Bouman, Chair; Linda Sue Barnes, Bobbie Brooks, Tim Fehr, Janice Kennedy, Debbie Monbeck, Maureen Strong, Janice Wood, and Joan Zettel. The committee collect photos which are either their own or those submitted by other people. Anyone who wishes to participate can either request the list of missing photos from Michael Bouman (images@daylilies.org), or just look up the cultivar name in the Online Daylily Database (www.daylilies.org) to see if a photo is needed. If you have a photo you would like to submit, first be sure that the photo is representative of the cultivar as described in the Online Database. If the photo is not an excellent match to the registered description it should not be submitted. Second, if you are not the photographer you must obtain permission from the photographer before submitting the photo. This means that simply Googling photos and submitting them will not do. Once you are sure the photo is correct and you have the necessary permission, send it to Michael Bouman at the email mentioned earlier. He will double-check the photo for accuracy. If all seems to be in order, he will then upload it with the image review tool and mark it as “recommended” for my review. As the third and final layer of review I carefully check the photo against the official record. The name must be an exact match for the registered cultivar name and the photo must be an excellent representation of the published description. After the final hurdles have been passed I get to hit the “approve” button and the photo goes directly to its slot in the Online Daylily Database. As you can imagine this is exacting, time-consuming work but very rewarding. It’s fascinating to see the photos of older cultivars and trace the development of form and color through the years. I’ve enjoyed it so much that I’ve recently begun sharing a selection of these “found” daylily photos on the AHS Facebook page. At right are a few.

AHS REGION 10 DIRECTOR

MaryAnn Duncan

Since the 2019 American Hemerocallis Society's national convention in Madison, Wisconsin, the AHS Board of Directors met in St Louis, MO on October 18-19. Key highlights of the meeting include:

- Scott Elliott, a prominent Georgia hybridizer and the chair for the 2020 Savannah National Convention, was elected President of the organization.
- The Society will focus on membership enrollment for the next two years. The cross membership recruitment with the American Horticulture Society is helping both our organizations increase their membership, a classic win/win activity. Local clubs are also encouraged to increase their AHS membership. It is estimated only about half of local club members are AHS members.
- Check the membership expiration date printed on the white cover of your Daylily Journal and send your dues in promptly.
- For people in your clubs who haven't been members of the AHS for the past several years, there will soon be an offer to receive a free copy of the Open Form Daylily book given free with a new membership. Keep your eyes alerted for this promotion.
- Rhonda Veroven is authoring a new book this year called Hybridizing 101.
- Next year, a "75th Anniversary" book will be released to celebrate our anniversary. Nikki K. Schmith is chairing that committee.
- The 2021 AHS National Convention will be hosted by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Daylily Society and the Hattiesburg Area Daylily Society to be held in Hattiesburg, MS.
- Asheville, NC has been confirmed as the site for the 2022 national convention.
- The various fundraising events in 2019 produced a balanced budget, thus no monies were required from the interest of the William E. Monroe Endowment Trust Fund.
- There is a pilot test program for an AHS Local Club Liaison, a new position that will involve speaking with the president of all the local daylily clubs throughout the country once or twice a year.
- The Board approved reducing the Robin from three pages to two in The Daylily Journal, effective immediately.
- If you would like to nominate someone for the 2020 awards, please send your nomination letter(s) to Rhonda Veroven at awards@daylilies.org by September 1, 2020.
- The online fundraising auction in early January 2020 netted approximately $14,000 to the General Fund.
- Marketing needs garden writers who are interested in working with national magazines and regional publications to submit daylily-related stories. Niche stories with a specific point of view are needed. Lead times are often many months in advance, so please reach out to marketing@daylilies.org if you are interested in working on this outreach for publication in 2020.
- You will be receiving a copy of the proposed changes to the AHS Bylaws in your next issue of The Daylily Journal. Please take the time to read it over and send in your vote either approving or denying the proposed changes.
- The Board voted to amend the Policy and Procedures Statement applying to the Guidelines for Material in the Journal to allow daylily related posts from social media

Garden Judges Liaison Report

Bill Schardein

Wow! It is getting closer to spring day by day again and you thought I would be gone as the Garden Judge Liaison by now. Unfortunately, that is not the case yet. Greg Crane has to complete one more task. He has to teach a Garden Judges Workshop I before he is fully confirmed as the new liaison for Region 10. We had thought this would be accomplished at the 2020 Mid-Winter Symposium that was held in Bowling Green this past February 7th, 8th and 9th, 2020. We had three people who had signed up for the classes and Greg was ready and able to teach for them. Sadly, two of the three people were sick, so none of them were able to attend that weekend. So now he will be teaching Garden Judges Clinic I on the online venue with Scott Elliott and several other teachers. As soon as that is accomplished and reported to the Records Chair, Greg will officially become the newest Region 10 Garden Judge Liaison. He is very eager to tackle this position and ready to help when clubs are seeking information to conduct their own workshops and at this Summer Regional Meeting, which actually will be held here in Louisville this year. The clinics will be held in my garden, Creekside Gardens, beginning on the Friday of this event prior to registrations and the opening meeting by LADS President, Linda Luck. We are hoping for a large turnout since you will only have a one night stay if needed at a hotel, one day of tours ending with a fabulous BBQ meal, auction and drawing for special prizes along with the daylilies you will receive at the registration table. It looks to be a great weekend event you don't want to miss! Remember this year to keep in mind the Popularity Poll, making notes of favorite cultivars as you make your way through the gardens you will be visiting whether in the Region or at the National Convention this year in Savannah, GA or if you are visiting another Region within AHS. It would be a good idea to make a note on your calendar on August 1st that you need to get that pop poll ballot to Tucker Gaby by September 1st to be recognized. It really helps to take an extra copy of the pop poll when you visit the gardens to make your notes. Another thing to be vigilant about is to check when your renewal date is to continue as a garden judge. If it is coming up, be sure to attend the next Garden Judges Workshop 2 (usually at the Regional Meeting if you do not have a local club that does it during their meeting) then get your Renewal Application and Garden Logs sent to the Garden Judges Records Chair by October 1st of the applicable renewal year. If you have just finished your classes and have met all the requirements and workshops to be a first time Judge, you will need to send the New Judges Application to the Region 10 President, currently me, no later than December 1st.

Again, thanks to all the wonderful people who I have met through the years of teaching this workshop. It has been a pleasure. Good Gardening,

Bill Schardein

Exhibition Judges Liaison Report

MaryAnn Duncan

Have you ever wondered how or why a particular flower was chosen Best in Show or Best In Class and made it to the Head Table? Learn more about the process and make every effort to attend an Exhibition Clinic I training class at the regional or national meeting or plan to join the free on-line class to be taught this fall. But do put it on your to-do list for 2020. The only requirement is that you have been an AHS member for twelve months.

Our Region 10 is in need of both exhibition and garden judges. The exhibition classes are wonderful for show planners as well as exhibitors. It's even better for those who are just beginning their foray into daylilies and want to know more about this beautiful flower, its many attributes and types.

Garden Judges are also needed in Region 10. This is the group of certified AHS members who make the decision about most of our annual award-winning daylilies.

Do you want to place a vote for the Stout Silver Medal winner? Become a garden judge! Many people think the AHS Board chooses the prestigious cultivar awards each year and that is not true. Nearly ALL of the cultivar awards are chosen by Garden Judges from our 15 regions nationwide. We are allowed 20% of our regional membership as Garden Judges and Region 10 is far, far from that. Contact Greg Crane, our Regional Garden Judge Liaison at gregcrane55@gmail.com for further information.

Your next opportunity in this region to join either of these classes is during our Barbecue in Bourbon Country June 26-27, in Louisville. This is our Region 10 summer meeting and garden tours event. If you are an Exhibition Judge or an Exhibition Judge Instructor looking for a judging assignment and/or a teaching assignment, please contact me, your Region 10 Exhibition Judges Liaison, at madunc859@gmail.com. I will do my best to find a position for you.

Please consider attending the 2020 AHS national meeting in Savannah, GA in the historic Desota Hotel, May 25-27. You will definitely be glad you did! Visit www.ahs2020national.com to register online. Please use the telephone number provided online or on the registration form to make your reservations. If you call the hotel directly, they will not know about the discounted rate and will tell you that all of the rooms are sold out. And don't forget to renew your annual AHS dues as soon as possible.

Many thanks to every local club, their members and officers who gave of themselves, their gardens, their wallets, their time and their creativity to make our exhibitions and our daylily world in general the tremendous successes they were in 2019. I look forward to this trend continuing in 2020 and beyond!

Regional Awards and Honors

by Richard Porter porterdaytily@yahoo.com

Region 10 has two major awards to recognize individuals, or couples, who have significantly contributed to the interest in daylilies for our Kentucky Tennessee Region:

Lee Pickles Regional Service Award

“The Lee Pickles Regional Service Award” is designed to single out those who have rendered many hours of dedicated service in the Region. Think about those in your club and at the Regional level who devote energies to the task of promoting daylilies for all of us. Please type your nomination giving a summary of the activities which benefit the Region and his/her worthiness for this award. We would like to have a nomination by May 15th so that the award could be announced at the Summer Regional meeting. Please submit nominations to Richard Porter, 1531 Sylvan Way, Louisville, KY 40205. Some past recipients of this award are Lee Pickles (twice), Elsie Heintz, Maurice Greene, Jay Turman, Geraldine Couturier, Scotty Innes, Bill Reinke, Doris Stonska, and in 2019, Christine Schardein and Michael Stephens.

Virginia Peck Hybridizer’s Award

“The Virginia Peck Hybridizer’s Award” requires the recipient to be a member of the AHS. He or she will thought to have attained outstanding results in the field of hybridizing. Designed to recognize and encourage hard work of hybridizers in our Region. Any nominee will be submitted to the president of Regional clubs to be voted on by the club, either by the president or if desired, the club itself. Some past recipients have been Hazel and Everett Dougherty, John Rice, Bill Oakes, Geraldine Couturier, Wes Kirby, Bill and Joyce Reinke, and last year, David Kirchhoff and Mort Morss. Please submit a nomination to Richard Porter, Regional Awards Chair, for Region 10. An equivalent award, the International Service Award, may be awarded to an international member.

Editor’s Note: Please be aware that the Region 10 “Lee Pickles Regional Service Award” is DIFFERENT from the National AHS Regional Service Award. As outlined on the AHS website, the AHS Board established the National AHS Regional Service Award for outstanding service to AHS at the regional level. Please see the AHS website for details regarding this national award. These nominations must be sent to the AHS Awards & Honors Chairman by September 1st by mail (Claude Carpenter, 6075 Vickery Pt., Cumming, GA 30040) or email (awards@daylilies.org), and must contain a summary of the nominee’s worthiness for this award.

Friday Afternoon & Friday Evening Sessions February 7, 2020

By Janice Wood, Memphis, TN

Another February came and daylily lovers assembled in Bowling Green for the 30th MWS. Friday afternoon started with hybridizers speaking about their hybridizing programs and showing pictures of their recent introductions and seedlings. We were treated by the following hybridizers, Laura Teague from Madisonville KY, Troy Marden from Fairville TN, and Chris Massengill from Bluff City TN. Laura has a line of plants selected for their garden value with the prefix Meredith, for her college alma mater Meredith College. She donates money from the daylilies sale to the college. Troy Marden has a true miniature daylily named H. "Miracle Baby" that is a vigorous rebloomer. This is named in honor of his nephew who was born prematurely but is now doing well. Chris Massengill has a future introduction to be named Apple Atcha (a pun on Appalachia) that is bright red and caught my eye. Brenda Macy then showed a program of "Landscapes, Garden Art, and a Little Extra". This included flowers, gardens and garden art from her tours around the country through the years. The group then enjoyed catching up with each other at the Wineception. Jay Turman presented for the 30th straight year a program of Futures and Introductions for 2020. This included photos from daylily hybridizers around the country. After dinner, Kentucky hybridizer Don Wolff discussed his daylily breeding program through the years. He lives on a regular sized suburban lot and has island beds scattered around the garden. The lawn areas get smaller and smaller as he squeezes in more daylily seedlings. He is most interested in double daylilies. He only has one single daylily registered- H. "Bourbon and Water". He thinks his best performer is H. "Double Sanibel Sunrise". He has used the cross of Geraldine Couturier's H. "Beware the Wizard" with Jan Joiner's H. "Sebastian the Crab" resulting in a number of UFO doubles, one of which is H. "Ginseng Man". His H. "Bourbon on Ice" is an early bloomer and H. "Little Pixie from Dixie" is a miniature double. New introductions this year are rose coral colored H. "Mia's Love", yellow H. "Ariel's Starfish", and H. "Bourbon Barrel", a veined double. The Wolff's garden will be a tour garden for this summer's Region 10 meeting.

Saturday Morning February 8, 2020

By Elizabeth Trotter

We started off the first presentation of the morning with the exciting, award-winning hybridizing program of our AHS President, Scott Elliott of Maneki Neko Gardens in Ellabell, Georgia. Scott has been hybridizing since 1983. He specializes in doubles, spiders, and unusual forms, but also has many miniature and small daylilies. Scott focuses on several goals while hybridizing: daylilies that do well over a wide geographical area, have exceptional garden habits, and excellent bud count, branching, and garden presence. In addition, he hybridizes for daylilies that will be successful in accredited AHS shows, as he is an avid exhibitor. With 141 registered cultivars, Scott has won 89 Achievement medals, 2 Awards of Merit ('WYSIWYG' in 2019 and 'Wildman George' in 2018), 6 Honorable Mentions, and 13 Junior Citations. He has won 3 Ida Munson awards, as voted by Garden Judges for the most outstanding double flower. These were for 'Sebastian on Steroids' (2018), 'WYSIWYG' (2017), and 'Wildman George' (2015). In addition, he has won 24 Best-in-Show awards, and 107 Best-in-Section awards. In 2015, Scott introduced 'Pixie Daydream', which he believes is the first mini, double, unusual form ever registered. In 2017, he introduced 'Bob on a Biscuit', the first double with a color break that has been registered. Scott and Dominique Elliott's garden will be on tour for the 2020 National in Savannah, Georgia this year, with a theme of "The Home of Southern Hospitality". We look forward to seeing their beautiful garden.

Next up was the inimitable David Kirchhoff. His presentation was part retrospective of friendships with luminaries of the daylily world, and part eye candy as we were treated to highlights of David and Mort Morss' hybridizing programs. David came from a long line of horticulturalists. He started out with diploids, introducing 'Jean Wooten', a clear saffron yellow, in 1976. His first reds, for which he is now famous, were 'Mozambique' and 'Salvation Show', in 1978. David has won many, many awards for his daylilies, including the Helen Field Fischer Award and the Bertrand Farr Silver Medal, but he said the Steve Moldovan Mentoring Award meant the most to him. His 'Betty Woods' (1980) was the first double to win the Stout Medal. David and Mort have been privileged to receive permission from many celebrities to name a daylily in their honor, including 'Julie Newmar' (Morss, 2000), 'Betty Ford' (Kirchhoff-D., 2002), and 'Barbara Mandrell' (Kirchhoff-D., 2009). He and Mort also have what he called the "dead movie star series", including 'Gloria Swanson' (Morss, 2004), 'Audrey Hepburn' (Kirchhoff-D., 2004), 'Cary Grant' (Kirchhoff-D., 2004), 'Claudette Colbert' (Kirchhoff-D., 2011), and more. Mort won the first R. W. Munson Award for a patterned daylily in 2001 with 'Witch Stitchery' (Morss, 1986). He won it again in 2005 for 'Gerda Brooker' (Morss, 1995), and again in 2006 for 'Julie Newmar' (Morss, 2000). We could have listened all day to David highlighting his and Mort's outstanding achievements.

Last on the morning's schedule was Billy Wright of Poplar Grove Farms in Kingsport, Tennessee. He spoke on a topic many of us avid gardeners were eager to hear: "All About Hellebores". Besides their early flowering habit, hellebores have another trait that endears them to gardeners—they are deer resistant. Hellebores are very adaptable as to soil type. They like fall, winter, and spring sun, then shade in summer. Planting them underneath a deciduous tree is ideal. Billy said to water them well until they are established, after which they are quite drought tolerant. Billy fertilizes his hellebores in the fall with Osmocote, and trims dead foliage as soon as new growth emerges. Hellebores tend to self-seed freely, taking two years from seed to bloom. They do not come true from seed, so it's always fun to see what you might end up with. Billy prefers to use biological controls, such as controlled beneficial insect release, for pests such as aphids, which like tender new growth.

30th Annual
MID-WINTER
Symposium

Saturday Afternoon
February 8, 2020

By Susan Okrasinski

First up for the Saturday afternoon session is the husband and wife team, Kathleen Nordstrom and Mike Grossman of Northern Lights Daylilies in Minnesota. What a pleasure to listen to these two speakers. They both have the ability of perfectly blending lots of information with equal amounts of entertainment which kept our attention from start to finish. Kathleen focuses her hybridizing goals on producing small daylilies, daylilies with patterns, unusual forms and polymerous daylilies. (Although her life goals are to be outside as much as possible and to have fun – words to live by!) She works 80% with dips and 20% with tets. She mentioned that she has been greatly influenced by the work of Grace Stamile, Darrel Apps, Bob Faulkner and Margo Reed. Her first introductions were Quaser Cutie and Luscious Kiss. I can tell you that many of her intros produced “ooohhs and aaahhs from a spellbound audience! Her deep red mini Gift Of Life was one that I made a note of for my own garden. As her hybridizing program has progressed, she is getting very good branching and instant rebloom which is an especially desirable trait for short northern summers. She is also very excited to be now getting strong fragrance in some of her tet patterned daylilies. Mike Grossman started Northern Lights Daylilies 20 years ago. He and Kathleen have three acres of land to work with for their separate hybridizing goals. Most of the acreage is dedicated to their large seedling beds and they also have a large greenhouse as well as a useful cold frame. Mike said it takes two years to go from seed to first bloom. The seedlings are transferred to tall tree pots in the greenhouse before they are moved to the seedling beds outside. Between the two of them they grow 10,000 new seedlings every year! Their selected seedlings are watched with a critical eye for at least another four years before future introductions are selected. Mike works mostly with tets and his interests are in large toothy unusual forms in strong dark colors. My Fuzzy Valentine and It Was A Narrow Escape were big crowd pleasers! He has a few striped daylilies showing up now too which is very exciting. He and Kathleen are using part of their acreage to grow milkweed for our dwindling population of monarch butterflies. They have also recently taken up the art of wine making and now have their own vineyard.

Jeff Harvey, owner of Dirt Dawg Nursery, was our next speaker. I have known Jeff as a vendor of many unusual trees and shrubs at past Mid-Winter Symposiums and had no idea what a conifer expert he is! He is the current president of the southeast region of the American Conifer Society. His talk was a fascinating look at the many colors, sizes and shapes you can find in the world of conifers. The colors vary from silver blue, green and yellow to chartreuse. You can find them in sizes from low growing ground covers to majestically large specimens. Shapes run the gamut from wide and compact to tall thin columns. Some varieties even cascade with weeping branches. I made a personal note to look for Cupressus which are tolerant of all types of soil, Cryptomeria Japonica which does well in southern areas and Juniperus Sunsplash which has lovely bitone needles of green and yellow.

Our last speaker was the inspirational and entertaining Paul Owen, the owner of Slightly Different Nursery in North Carolina. His motto should be “If I can imagine it, I can make it happen”. He started by describing his early years and telling us how he combined his love of gardening with his indomitable spirit and slowly built his business from an idea and a handful of perennial seeds, to the grand success it is today. Slightly Different Nursery is not only a commercial daylily garden but is also a beautiful mountain top wedding reception venue! His main hybridizing goal is to produce hardy plants. Paul explained that hardy shouldn’t just refer to cold tolerance but should also mean the plant can withstand high heat, drought and flooding too. He also demands that his daylilies have good plant habit, meaning strong well branched scapes with rebloom and beautiful lush foliage. His favorite introductions with these qualities are Lipstick On A Pig and

Below: The absolutely wonderful Paul Owen and Debbie Monbeck. Here is Paul giving his talk about the progression of his business along with a look at his latest and greatest daylilies. Paul along with all our speakers generously donated many of his intros to our auction.

Above: Mike Grossman and Kathleen Nordstrom from Northern Lights Daylilies in Minnesota. They are featured speakers and not only gave very interesting talks, but also generously donated daylilies to the region 10 auction

Here is an overview of part of the crowd that attended. You can see our vendors in the background. Dirt Dawg Nursery and Poplar Grove Farms brought some beautiful things

Victim Of Love. I was quite taken with his Cookin' With Gas which has unusual jet black buds and smokey foliage, Paul is also a very active supporter of his local area. He co-opted with a local high school to teach students how to grow and propagate perennials from seed. They raised enough from the sale of these plants for the school to buy a large well equipped greenhouse. He was also the lead fundraiser and planner for a renovation of the Shelby town square. All of these great things Paul has accomplished spring from a simple maxim... "If I imagine it, I can do it!"

Sunday Morning February 9, 2020

By Lorene Crone, Jackson, TN

As we gathered Sunday morning, some looked for the raffle winners while others got in the last conversations before saying farewell until we meet again. Still others gathered the last bits of candy left on the tables to eat while on the road back home. Scott Elliott, ADS President, tempted us to attend the 2020 National Convention in Savannah, GA. He modeled the t-shirt and goodie bag that each attendee will receive. Each attendee will also receive a gift plant hybridized by Scott or Jan Joiner. The DeSoto Hotel will be the center of the convention activities Sunday - Wednesday for the outstanding price of $145 per night. The committee meetings will begin on Sunday afternoon. Scott showed some video from the trolley tours and the natural wildlife refuge. There is also an optional 2-hour lunch cruise on a paddle wheeler. Wednesday will be the official garden tours. We will visit Joiner Daylily Gardens, Maneki Neko Daylily Gardens, and Coastal Georgia Botanical Gardens at the Historical Bamboo Farm. There will be a catered breakfast from Panera Bread and Starbucks Coffee and catered lunch by the Rusty Pig BBQ featuring Sad Cake and BBQ with an attitude. The Joiner Garden had its first tour in 1989 and have registered over 800 cultivars. Although the Joiners are retired now, they are excited to welcome the convention to their garden. The Enman Joiner Region 5 seedling bed is located here. Maneki Neko Gardens, owned by Scott and Dominique Elliott and their kitties welcome us to Savannah. They have registered 142 cultivars where they specialize in show bench specimens. They have been awarded multiple achievement medals and other prestigious awards over the years. The garden has over 80 varieties of hydrangeas to accent the garden. Coastal Georgia Botanical Gardens at the Historical Bamboo Farm will be third garden on this one-day tour. This garden features rivers of Louisiana iris, iris trial beds, a cottage garden, xeriscape gardens, a 300-foot crape myrtle allee, camellia garden, rose garden, and the list goes on and on. Hope you get to attend this unique experience in the south. Our next presenter of the morning was Linda Luck of the Louisville Area Daylily Society. She invited us to attend the Region 10 Summer Meeting and Garden Tour with a twist. This will be different from any region meeting we have had in the past but it sure sounds like it is going to be a lot of fun. We have been given a list of hotels in the area so you can choose your favorite. On June 26, we will gather for a meet and greet at Creekside gardens, home of our RP Bill & Chris Schardein. There we will be given our maps for the garden tour and enjoy a dessert and fruit bar reception. The next morning will begin the garden tours. We will carpool to the gardens. Most of the gardens cannot accommodate a bus so this is the best way to see gardens we may not have the opportunity to see otherwise. This also gives each car the opportunity to stay as long or short as they want before moving on to the next garden. Each attendee will have a card that will be punched at each garden. This card will be placed in a raffle at the last garden where there will be a BBQ banquet. There will be no formal boutique but there will be daylilies and other items for sale all day. We will end the day with the region meeting and auction. All this for the outrageously low registration fee of $40! I'm ready to go. After everyone was excited for the garden season to begin, we said our goodbyes and hit the road back to our homes to dream and plan the upcoming travel opportunities. See you in the garden!

MID-WINTER

Symposium

Hear ye, hear ye all! It is never too early to start making plans to attend the next fabulous Mid-Winter Symposium. You will enjoy several new and exciting speakers on your favorite subject, Daylilies and other perennial plants! Of course on Friday, you will be able to enjoy the annual Wineception, where you will have snacks and favorite wines brought in by our attendees. You will be able to mingle with the region's local and nationally known hybridizers and the novice hybridizers who might just have the next latest and greatest of cultivars! You will enjoy a full day of speakers to wet your whistle as you get ready for another year of spectacular floral explosions in your own back yard. And you will get more ideas on what you will need to do.

Naturally, we will have plenty of great food! There will be a banquet dinner on both Friday and Saturday nights. If you sign up for the hotel using our group code (AHS for MWS Room rate), you will receive a breakfast voucher (worth $12 each day). Using the group code also helps us get room night counts. When we reach forty will allow us to get one free night that we use to help defray the cost of the speakers' rooms. For the past two years we have come up to 78, just short of getting two free nights! Unfortunately we do not get room credits when you use your points. We will be in Bowling Green, KY again in 2021. The room rate will be $126.95 per night (it was $125.00 last year). We will be having the second floor hospitality room again, which had a larger area, for easy access when mingling.

One last request. Think about making your hotel reservations EARLY for 2021. You can make them as early as October. That way you will be assured that you have a room in the same hotel. Much easier than having to travel to the event each morning from down the road, especially if we have bad weather! If you find that you will not be able to attend, just cancel the room in a timely manner as shown on your confirmation sheet and you owe nothing, no loss at all! We had several people call me about the hotel being sold out on January 20th when they went to make the reservation. We will have the end date (this year was 1/8/20) on the registration forms as soon as we get the schedules ready. Please make the call prior to the end date.

We really look forward to seeing everyone again each year and hope to see you there in 2021!

BOURBON COUNTRY

LOUISVILLE, KY
June 26-27, 2020

A CONVENTION WITH "AN UNUSUAL FORM"
2020 Region 10 Summer Meeting and Garden Tours

THE LOUISVILLE AREA DAYLILY SOCIETY IS EXCITED TO INVITE EVERYONE TO THE REGION 10 SUMMER MEETING AND GARDEN TOURS ON JUNE 26 – 27, 2020 IN LOUISVILLE, KY! AS MANY OF YOU HAVE BECOME AWARE, WE ARE MAKING A FEW ADJUSTMENTS TO THE STANDARD FORMAT AND HOPE YOU WILL ENJOY THE CHANGES. WE ARE ALSO INCLUDING A NUMBER OF ELEMENTS OF THE TYPICAL CONVENTIONS WHICH WE KNOW ARE PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT TO THE ATTENDEES.

First of all, there will be a total of seven gardens to tour during the Summer Meeting, including Bill and Chris Schardein's Creekside Garden which will host the Friday evening Dessert and Fruit Reception. For anyone signed up for any of the Garden Judges or Exhibition Judges workshops, your classes will be held here as well. Bill is a Region 10 hybridizer, so there will be plenty of seedlings to view. The Gardens will open at 2:00 p.m. for touring and the Registration Desk will open at 4:00. (Pre-registration is required.) Materials will be distributed there, including addresses of the Saturday Tour Gardens and a map as well as a Registration Plant. Five Tour Gardens will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday and each will have refreshments available. We are pleased to share these very different gardens with you, each with its own points of interest and special appeal. Four are in a residential setting while one sits on more acreage, and one is also the home of one of our other Region 10 hybridizers, Don Wolff. Transportation to the gardens is up to the individual attendees, so you can visit them in any order you choose and stay as long as you like. There will be a few boutique-type items for sale at some of the gardens and at least one will also have pre-dug daylilies for sale. Free raffle tickets will be punched at each garden, including the Friday evening Reception garden and the Saturday evening Banquet garden, for the chance to win a variety of daylily or bourbon-related prizes. Karen and Danny Sidebottom's Breshears Creek Gardens will open for touring at 4:00 p.m. on Saturday and will be the location of our Bar-B-Q Banquet, the Region 10 Business Meeting and the Daylily Auction, with those activities beginning at 6:00 p.m. We will also draw tickets for the raffle following the Business Meeting. Although there will not be a host hotel, on the Registration Form we are providing names and contact information of a few hotels that would be centrally located to the gardens. That way attendees can select one with which they perhaps have a rewards relationship, or just a brand they prefer. The Registration Form also provides the opportunity to register for the Garden Judges and Exhibition Judges classes, which will be held on Friday, prior to the formal start of the weekend. Region 10 members considering attending but who have questions are welcome to contact Andrea King, Registrar, at a.o.king@outlook.com or Linda Luck, LADS President, at lcl4401@yahoo.com for more information. Additionally, follow-up information will be sent out to registrants once the Registration Form is received. The LADS members look forward to hosting this Convention with "an Unusual Form" and to welcoming everyone to our gardens and to our city during the Daylilies and Bar-B-Q in Bourbon Country AHS Region 10 Summer Meeting June 26-27, 2020 !

AHS Region 10 Board Meeting – Bowling Green, KY

MEETING MINUTES from FEBRUARY 7, 2020

Respectfully submitted by Doris Stonska
Region 10 Secretary

- Region 10 President Bill Schardein opened meeting at 4p.m. with Chris Schardein and Lorene Crone in attendance.
- Old Business: Reminders will be sent out regarding plants donated previously by Mary Collier Fisher that are to be put in Display Gardens only. Fan counts will be taken to see if they can be used for Regional Auctions in the future.
- New Business: Audit of Regional funds for years 2016 thru 2019. Funds were found acceptable and cleared of any error with the able team of Chris Schardein and Beverly Crittenden.
- Garden Judges Liaison: Greg Crane will be the New Garden Judges Liaison for 2020 and forward.
- Expenses Reimbursement Proposal: Chris Schardein proposed guidelines for reimbursement procedures, to enable the Treasurer to prepare for future audits. She suggests that all expenses over $100 must be approved before the purchase and to be turned in within 6 weeks.
- Publicity Popularity Poll: Tucker Gaby was not available for the MWS. Libby Hickman and maybe Dennis Hall can help Tucker keep up his Pop Poll position by working with him to give guidance on what he will need to do with the Pop Poll and other items of that position.
- Chris Schardein closed the meeting at 4:20 p.m.

AHS Region 10 Business Meeting – Bowling Green, KY

MEETING MINUTES from FEBRUARY 8, 2020

- President Bill Schardein opened the meeting at 6:10 pm. With board members: Chris Schardein-Treasurer, Doris Stonska - Secretary, Tucker Gabby - Publicity Directory was not able to attend.
- The Board minutes of the last meeting were in the Fall Daylily Appeal. Copies of the General Minutes for the 2019 Summer Meeting were handed out to all Region 10 members, moved to approve by Debbie Monbeck and seconded by Claudia Wolff.
- The 2019 Treasurer's Report was presented by the Treasurer. It was approved and seconded to accept as read.
- It had been brought to the Treasurer's attention that an audit needed to be done with the installation of the new Regional President in 2020. The last audit was done in 2016 for the years of 2014 and 2015. So an audit was done for four years - 2016 thru 2019.
- Income and Expenses were reviewed by Bev Crittenden and found to be in order. All expenses with original receipts for the Regional and National Convention for the President and Director need to be sent in no less than six weeks after the event. All other expenses for AHS Region 10 matters that will be over $100 need to be approved by the Board PRIOR to purchase and presented for reimbursement within six weeks of that event. This will help the current and future Treasurers to keep accurate info for when the next audit occurs. Motion by Chris Schardein to accept change. AYE'S won in unison.
- Exhibition Judges report by Mary Ann Duncan - One person signed up to attend but when she found out she was not eligible yet she cancelled.
- Garden Judges Liaison Report - Bill Schardein had three signed up but due to illnesses none attended, so there were no classes.
- New Garden Judge Liaison in training is Greg Crane. As soon as he completes his last task of teaching a Garden Judges Workshop with Scott Elliott online, he will be confirmed as the new Liaison.
- Mary Collier Fisher donated daylilies in 2017 that will need to be donated back to Region 10 for summer meetings. Those members who have the plants will be notified by the President to let him know how many have grown from the original cultivars they received and if they will be ready to use in future Region 10 auctions. Attendees affirmed that we should hold MWS again at the Holiday Inn University Plaza in Feb. 2021. Linda Luck, President of the Louisville Area Daylily Society, invited all attendees to come to their 2020 Regional Meeting in Louisville and have a look at our beautiful city while touring several local gardens of the LADS members.
- Lorene Crone advised us of the closure of the West Tennessee Club. In dividing their assets, the club projector was donated to Region 10.
- Sandra Merritt asked to be noted in the minutes that members should show appreciation to all who are involved in the production of the Daylily Appeal and how wonderful it always appears.
- Brenda Macy noted that Lee Pickles had been the Editor of the Appeal years ago and had gotten Region 10 to purchase a laser printer. When Brenda took over from him, Lee gave her the laser printer, but she was unable to use it since he did not give her a needed cord. She wanted to get permission to give the old one to the upcoming recycling event in Elizabethtown since the printer is now obsolete. The motion by Ellen Carrithers to recycle the printer was approved and seconded.
- Meeting adjourned at 6:30 p.m.

REGION 10 CLUB REPORTS

Tennessee Valley Daylily Society

by George Gannaway

PRESIDENT: Libby Hickman
 SECOND VICE PRESIDENT: Joan Trundle
 TREASURER: Todd Gaby
 SECRETARY/REPORTER: George Gannaway

As the new Reporter for the TVDS, I became preoccupied with golf and forgot to send in a report for the last issue of The Daylily Appeal. If you will permit me I will back pedal just a little bit. We had our February meeting with hybridizer Mark Carpenter making a presentation and he brought some wonderful cultivars for auction. I have included Crayola Explosion in this article that bloomed for me in 2019. George Gannaway presented a program “Why Daylilies” at the Hamilton County Master Gardener Expo at Camp Jordan, April 14. Approximately 30 attended. While at the Master Gardeners Monthly Meeting, George put a plug in for the TVDS Daylily Club meetings and daylily show in June at The Barn Nursery. At our April meeting, Jim Mullins gave presentation on “Changes in Exhibition Judging”. During the business session plans were made for our annual daylily show held at The Barn Nursery. In late May, George and Ginny Gannaway hosted a class on “Grooming Daylilies” presented by Jim Mullins. Several of the club members attended and enjoyed a picnic lunch and toured George and Ginny’s Garden.

Our August meeting was a wonderful slide presentation by David Kirchoff and Mort Morss that include many of their cultivars along with the history of how they were named. Following the presentation there was an auction of some of their favorites. Kirk Steely, a local member, gave an interesting presentation at our October meeting of his hybridizing program and how it has evolved over the years. Kirk shared his introductions for 2020 and some of his potential seedlings he is watching. Unfortunately we did not have our annual Christmas luncheon this year.

Our host came down with the flu at the last minute and we were unable to find a location. Winter seemed very short this year as daffodils were blooming in January, so it looks like we can expect an early season for daylilies in 2020.

REGION 10 CLUB REPORTS

Daylily Society of Louisville

by Helen Porter

At the August 2019, meeting of the DSL, we had a very interesting speaker from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife, Olivia Dangler. Part of Olivia's job is to promote responsible hunting, fishing and conservation in Kentucky, and there are a number of programs KDFW offers for interested hunters, including one titled "Becoming an Outdoor Woman" (or "BOW"), which Olivia teaches.

September was the DSL annual picnic, where members share their cooking and baking expertise and after the meal, trade daylily proliferations and other perennials. We also have lots of donated daylilies which are used as door prizes for attendees. Plenty of time to plant before the first frost! Usually there is no formal meeting at the picnic, just some announcements about upcoming events. There is lots of fun, though!

At our October meeting, in lieu of the scheduled speaker who had an emergency at the last minute, Don Wolff showed daylily slides from the AHS archives. He also reminded us that the election of officers for the New Year would occur at our November holiday dinner.

In November each year, the DSL celebrates the upcoming holidays with a festive evening at a nice restaurant (Carrabba's Italian Grill is the current venue, coordinated by member Bev Crittenden). The Club treasury foots the bill for the meal and for a number of nice Christmas gifts given out to those lucky people holding the winning numbers. Our Santa, Bill Gdaniec, buys these gifts and then gives them out after the meal. Also at this event, the new DSL officers for the next year are elected and sworn in. Our club does not meet in December or January due to possible inclement weather. We have had to call off meetings due to hazardous driving conditions when Louisville has been hit with winter storms, so we simply wait until there is less possibility of that happening, and have our first meeting of the year in February.

Fifteen DSL members attended Region 10's thirtieth "Mid-Winter Symposium" in Bowling Green, Kentucky, February 7 - 9, 2020. DSL member Bill Schardein is the current Regional President, and his wife Chris, is the current Registrar for the event. It is just wonderful to see so many friends from Kentucky and Tennessee there as well as a number of attendees from other AHS Regions. Then, at our February, 2020, meeting, Brenda Macy presented her slides about the 2019 National Convention in Madison, Wisconsin. Brenda is an excellent photographer, so we were treated to many wonderful photos of that event. A major highlight of her presentation was a photo tour of famous architect, Frank Lloyd Wright's home and architectural school. When building his home, he emphasized views — every window in the house frames a spectacular landscape. Hybridizer Darrel Apps' garden was also featured.

We will be having 3 daylily sales this year: the first will be in Bullitt County on April 25th, Hardin County (Elizabethtown) on May 16th, and the 3rd in Louisville, date and venue to be confirmed.

A January meeting was held at the Kingsport Public Library for the purpose of selecting officers and planning club activities for 2020. Listed above are those chosen to serve as officers for this year. Below are the scheduled club events. If you happen to be in the area, please feel free to join us. Unless a different location or time is listed, meetings are at 2:00 p.m. at the Kingsport Public Library.

Our first meeting of the year in February was well attended. A very informative program was presented by award-winning photographer Richard Siggins of Kingsport. Richard gives classes through the Eastman Camera Club, and he travels the world with his camera. Richard presented a program for us on techniques in photographing gardens and flowers. He also included tips on taking pictures using your cell phone. With all the avid photographers of daylilies in our region, a photography program would be a great idea for any of your clubs. A few members are making plans to attend the National ADS meeting in Savannah, GA, in May as well as the Region 10 meeting in Louisville. It is certainly going to be a busy summer! Please "Friend" the Tri-Cities Daylily Society public Facebook group to keep informed of our activities. Happy Gardening!!

- February 15 "Flower Photography 101" presented by Richard Siggins
- March 28 10 a.m., "Gardening for Four Seasons" presented by Master Gardener Earl Hockin
- April 25-26 Club Booth at Exchange Place Garden Fair
- May 16 10 a.m., Hall Garden – "Can You Dig It?" Garden talk and in-garden demonstration
- June 13 FYI, Master Gardener Convention and Keep Kingsport Beautiful Garden Tours
- June 20 TCDS Local Garden Tours
- June 26-27 Region 10 Convention and Garden Tours, Louisville, KY
- July 11 Blue Ridge Daylily Garden Picnic, Asheville, NC
- August 15 "Dirty Daylily Exchange"
- September 12 9 a.m., Auction and Picnic at Bays Mountain Eastman Recreation Park
- November 14 Program presented by hybridizer and entertaining speaker Paul Owen, owner of Slightly Different Nursery, Shelby, NC
- December 5 Christmas Luncheon, details to be announced

BGHHS members have been busy since our last report. In September, members participated in Garden Bingo for the opportunity to select plants and garden items from the prize table donated by the members.

Then in November with bulbs purchased by the club and donations by members everyone participated in our fall bulb swap. Members leave these two meetings excited to be adding new plants and garden items to their gardens.

The October meeting was the club's election of officers. Following the election members enjoyed a wonderful potluck dinner while viewing a slide presentation of fellow members' gardens. Everyone enjoyed the presentation and getting ideas from each other's gardens.

In December, club member Linda Donald, opened her beautifully holiday decorated home for our gathering. Members enjoyed an evening of appetizers and desserts followed by a gift exchange game.

After working through the business meeting in January, members socialized over refreshments and making pine cone bird feeders. The local horticulture extension agent presented an informative program about attracting pollinators to the garden.

Our Regional Planning Committee has been busy putting together a regional meeting and garden tour for 2021 that everyone is sure to enjoy.

Middle Tennessee Daylily Society

by Greg Crane, Hendersonville, TN

PRESIDENT: Greg Crane
 1ST VICE PRESIDENT: Jack Alexander
 2ND VICE PRESIDENT: Jennifer Weedman
 RECORDING SECRETARY: Sharon Cuffe
 CORRESPONDING SECRETARY: Cassie Graham
 TREASURER: Nicole Bull
 HISTORIAN: Jay Turman

Middle Tennessee Daylily Society is coming off a banner year highlighted by its thirty year birthday. The club celebrated in fine fashion with a party and history presented in photos at the world famous Loveless Café in Nashville. We are very appreciative of David Kirchhoff who registered a daylily in honor of the milestone event named The Anniversary Pearl. With that awesome event in the rear view mirror, it's time to see what is in store for 2020.

We are planning on a huge yearly event at the annual Nashville Lawn and Garden Show as we sell hundreds of potted daylilies to the public. The show has a new venue and we are looking forward to the challenges of having this sale in a new location. Although the show will be on the same property, there is a new building which is a little distance from the old location where they plan on someday building a soccer stadium. We certainly appreciate the hard work done by our membership to donate, pot, and transport these plants to the fairgrounds for sale. This is one of the events we participate in each year to raise money for things we do the rest of the year.

The club is having difficulties finding a suitable place to hold our monthly meetings. We will continue to kind of bounce around and hopefully will land on a fabulous location for those meetings. Until then, please refer to the handout given to club members and updates by email for places where these events will take place.

This spring and summer we will be hosting many programs: Attracting Butterflies to the Garden; Dan Bachman from Valley of the Daylilies; our Annual CAP Plant meeting. Plus our daylily show and sale which is held on June 13th in Nashville, at the Calvary Methodist Church on Hillsboro Pike (Green Hills). There will be a grooming session as usual the Saturday before the show at the home of Emily Robertson. If you already know all you need to know about grooming, please still come for the fellowship and to look at Emily's beautiful garden. And last but not least, we are looking forward to our Annual Breakfast in the Garden meeting on June 20th at the new home of Reagan and Nicole Bull. The address for their new home, Bluebird Springs Farm, is 631 Kennedy Dr., Shelbyville, TN.

We are very grateful for all our members and we thank those who have gone the extra mile in hosting or helping plan our meetings for the spring and summer. Those little green shoots coming up in our gardens are going to make us very happy real soon. Spring is almost here and before you know it, we'll be taking inventory of what to bring to the show!!!
